LONDON, NOVEMBER 21.

MR. Wilkes, before the meeting of the parliament on the 15th of November, had certainly loſt a great deal of his popularity, by the reſtleſs endeavours of the numerous and powerful enemies he had brought upon himſelf. His private character was ſcrutinized, and every act on of his life, that wit, power, or malice, could repreſent in a blamable or ridiculous light, was expoſed to the public. And though it is no certain rule to judge of a perſon's public character, by the virtues or vices of his private life; yet it is certain, that the world do generally judge of one by the other; and are very ſeldom miſtaken. And tho' Mr. Wilkes was certainly juſtifiable in his refuſal to fight Mr. Forbes, yet from thence his courage became ſuſpected, and he received many affronts, that probably would never have been offer'd, but upon a preſumption that he had not ſpirit to reſent them. But the greateſt blow to his popularity was a monſtrouſly obſcene, blaſphemous pamphlet, imputed to him, and ſaid to be printed at his houſe in Great George-ſtreet, with anotations under the name of the Biſhop of Glouceſter. Of this the biſhop complained in the houſe of lords, as a breach of privilege by Mr. Wilkes, the publiſher, and witneſſes were ordered to be examined.

In the houſe of commons Mr. Wilkes ſtood up, and began to ſet forth his grievance, but was interrupted by Mr. Grenville, who told the ſpeaker he had a meſſage from the king. It is cuſtomary to break off all debates in order to give due attention and reſpect to the king's meſſage. Yet Mr. Wilkes was called upon to proceed, upon which it was moved to ſuſpend the meſſage till Mr. Wilkes was heard; on this a debate aroſe, and it was carried for receiving the meſſage by 300 againſt 111. Then the meſſage was read, complaining of the North-Briton, &c. A warm conteſt aroſe. Lord North, in ſuppert of the meſſage, was anſwered by Mr. Pitt, who, they ſay, ſpoke long in favour of Mr. Wilkes.

They ſat till morning, when it was voted by the majority, that the North-Briton No. 45, was a falſe, ſeditious, factious libel, and ordered to be burnt by the hands of the common hangman. And Mr. Wilkes, the ſuppoſed author, ordered to attend at the bar of the houſe the next day. In the courſe of the debate, Mr. Martin, late ſecretary of the treaſury, ſaid that the author of that paper was a ſcoundrel, a villain, and a coward, and ſeemed to apply theſe expreſſions to Mr. Wilkes. It is ſaid a challenge was given as ſoon as the parties were in private together, and that when the houſe adjourn'd, in the lobby, Mr. Wilkes addreſs'd himſelf to Mr. Martin in the following words, "Sir, after fourteen hours hard duty, I ſhall go home and take a little reſt, and about twelve at noon, remember we are to proceed to-buſineſs."

It is ſaid Mr. Wilkes and Mr. Martin were reconciled before they parted.

Mr. Wilkes was viſited as ſoon as he got home, by his grace the duke of Bolton, the right hon. earl Temple, and Mr. Pitt.

The eſſay on woman, endeavoured to be father'd upon him, is an old thing, wrote originally in France, and tranſlated into Engliſh, by the ſon of a late Archbiſhop, and ſince printed with notes in the name of a Right Reverend. It is likewiſe ſaid that a great perſonage, who has lately been remarkably ſevere upon it, was ſhewn it ſeven years ago at the Beef-Stake Club, and expreſſed at that time the greateſt admiration of it.

JACOB MOTTE,

Charles-Town, March 3d, 1764.

THE Printer of this Gazette, having carried on his buſineſs to great diſadvantage for ſome time paſt, for want of A PROPER ASSISTANT, which has not only prevented him collecting his dues, but alſo occaſioned irregular publications; his ſtock of paper for the gazettes being exhauſted, and no ſupply yet arrived; and being determined to have all his affairs ſettled by the 1ſt of July next;

THINKS this the fitteſt opportunity to take, and make known to the public, a reſolution to diſcontinue the publication of this paper from the 1ſt of April to the 1ſt day of July next. AND, as this reſolution is taken purpoſely to ſettle his affairs, and to enable him to carry on his buſineſs on a more extenſive and uſeful plan for the future; he entreats all perſons indebted to him, to diſcharge what they to owe, or at leaſt ſettle with him, by the firſt day of June; which he hopes they will do without requiring any other notice, eſpecially thoſe who have been an immoderate time in arrear.

At the ſame time, as he has the moſt grateful ſenſe of every favour that has been conferred upon him, he takes this public method of returning his moſt hearty thanks to all his friends and good cuſtomers, for the countenance and ſupport they have afforded him through the courſe of twenty five years that the buſineſs has been conducted here in his name; a continuance of which it ſhall always be his ſtudy to deſerve.—Such of them as may be diſpoſed to take in his Gazettes again, from the 1ſt of July next, will pleaſe ſignify the ſame to him by the 1ſt of June; when he hopes to be provided with a good aſſiſtant, and amply ſupplied with every requiſite for carrying on his buſineſs with more regularity and to more general ſatisfaction than hitherto, to effect which no pains or coſt will be ſpared; and country ſubſcribers (firſt paying up their arrears) may depend on having their papers conveyed to them in the moſt expeditious manner.

N.B. The Gazette is the only part of the buſineſs that will be diſcontinued during the interval aforeſaid: All other kinds of PRINTING WORK will be taken in and done, and BLANKS ſold—as uſual.

A Few dozen of very fine Claret, at 15l per dozen, warranted to be of the very beſt quality; ſome ditto at 9l per dozen; beſt genuine Frontiniac, either in quart or pint bottles; alſo, Madera and Vidonia Wine; Jamaica and Weſt-India Rum; white wine Vineger fit for pickles; Briſtol Cyder, either by the hamper or dozen; and a few dozen of beſt Batavia Arrack, retailed by FRANCIS MORAND, in Broad-ſtreet, next to the Watch-houſe. Alſo, a large quantity of ſpecial good Seine Twine, to diſpoſe of.

The Subſcriber intending (God willing) to go for England by the firſt of May next, gives this public notice:

THAT he is ready to anſwer any ſuit that may be brought againſt him, and to appear and give bail to any ſummons that ſhall be iſſued againſt him, in terms of an act of the general-aſſembly of this province, commonly called the Attachment-Act.

All perſons having any demands againſt him, are deſired to ſend in their accompts for payment; and thoſe indebted to him, by bond, note, or book-debt, to make payment on or before the laſt day of April next, otherwiſe from that day, they will find their accompts in the hands of an attorney at law, to be ſued for without further notice.

NEW-YORK, JANUARY 16.

ABOUT eleven o'clock laſt night the inhabitants of this city were ſuddenly and greatly alarmed by the cry of fire, the ſtriking out of the fire-bell, and all the other bells in the city; but it was ſoon after found that a body of men had entered the new jail, and demanded the keys of Mr. Mills the keeper, who refuſing to deliver them, received ſeveral wounds with a bayonet: They afterwards, forced the doors, and let looſe all or moſt of the priſoners: It ſeems their principal intent was, to releaſe Major Rogers, who a few days ago came to town, was arreſted, and confined in that place, which they effected. Part of our militia were collected together as ſoon as poſſible by beat of drum, remained under arms all night, and have taken ſix of the rioters. A ſerjeant of the Highlanders was killed on this occaſion, and ſeveral other perſons wounded.

January 21. Two companies of New-York Provincials marched for Albany on the 24th of laſt month; and a third company on the 8th of this month; all raiſed in this city, and places adjacent. They are picked men, fit for the moſt alert ſervice, and are cloathed in a ſuitable manner. We are likewiſe informed, that two other companies raiſing in Albany and Dutcheſs county, were lately ſo near being fill'd, that there is no doubt they are by this time completed, and will make a fine battalion.

January 23. The Reverend Mr. George Whitefield left this city on tueſday laſt, and went over to Long-Iſland, for Boſton. He has ſpent ſeven weeks with us, preaching twice a week to more general acceptance than ever; and has been treated with great reſpect by many of the gentlemen, and merchants of this place. During his ſtay he preached two charity ſermons, the one on occaſion of the annual collection of the poor of the Preſbyterian church, in which double the ſum was collected that ever was on the like occaſion: The other was for the benefit of Mr. Wheelock's Indian ſchool at Lebanon, in New-England, for which he collected, notwithſtanding the preſent prejudice of many people againſt the Indians, the ſum of one hundred and twenty pounds. In his laſt ſermon (delivered in the morning of the day he ſet out, to a vaſtly crouded auditory) he took a very affectionate leave of the people of this city, who were extremely affected by it, and expreſſed great concern at his departure.

We have received no particular account ſince our laſt of the riot mentioned in our gazette laſt monday, to have happened at the New-Gaol.—There is an account publiſhed, ſaid to be the requeſt of ſome of the priſoners, but it is too full of inconſiſtencies to be introduced into this paper. Upon the whole, it appears that Major Rogers had frequent interviews with a number of thoſe ſoldiers, with whom, no doubt, he had laid his plan.—That the better to execute it, he had ſingled a ſet of about 15 or 20, who were to do the job at a certain hour, keeping in reſerve at a diſtance upwards of an hundred others to ſecond the riot; but, kept in ignorance of the time of the Major's releaſe, that a general alarm of the town might prevent a purſuit. This had its effect;—for, in half an hour's time, Rogers was at the front door, and by report, gave one, two, or three Indian yells, and afterwards march'd off with himſelf.—At this very inſtant, notice was given to the reſerve, by thoſe who actually releaſed the Major, that they ſhould aſſiſt; when they directly furiouſly bolted in, beat and abuſed the priſoners, opened almoſt every door in the jail in order to find Rogers, and forced every priſoner out of it at the point of their bayonets;—the greateſt part of whom returned the next morning;—but the Major, (agreeable to logick) major'd us all; for, during the uproar, he puſhed off with a pick'd up horſe,—and, Indian like, went the Lord knows where. Two hundred pounds, however, is offered for apprehending him.—To finiſh the account of this affray, we ſhould be glad to know, who would be ſo deſirous of having heads broke, and ſhoulders confoundedly bruiſed, by a ſtroke directly levell'd at them, and afterwards have it ſaid, no perſonal hurt was deſigned them;—(a ſtroke in rhetoric, this ſo crooked, that we are apt to believe moſt of our readers rather chuſe to read of, than to experience).—With regard to Mr. Rogers ſaying, gentlemen you will certainly ruin me, is altogether good; for he had money about him,—to put the better face on the matter, it was an Indian policy to cry out dread of ruin. And, though his expreſſions of being undone;—take a Bear and chain him,—let one of the rioters, or any other perſon break it, and, if the beaſt could ſpeak, (table like) he would bellow out,—That fellow has undone me:—And that was all Rogers wanted viz. to be undone.———

Thurſday laſt Meſſrs. Joſeph and Richardſon Cornell, of this city, ſhop keepers, abſconded, having firſt taken up goods, from different merchants of this place, to the amount of 7000l. and converted the greateſt part of them into ready caſh: They went to Cow-Neck on Long-Iſland, and there ſhut themſelves up in a room, in the houſe of Mr. Henry Sands, of that place, and as ſome of the creditors were endeavouring to get in upon them, laſt friday morning, they fired two ſhot, the laſt of which killed Mr. Timothy McCarthy of this place, on the ſpot; and the ſame day they eſcaped; and 'twas ſuppoſed were conveyed on board a ſcooner in the ſound. The coroner's inqueſt being ſummoned, brought in their verdict, (it is ſaid wilful murder.) Mr. McCarthy's body was brought to town ſaturday night, and decently interred yeſterday morning.

January 30. We have it from the very beſt authority, that Sir William Johnſon was lately viſited by above 300 friendly Indians of the five nations; as alſo by ſome deputies from the Senecas.

February 6. The honourable Robert Hunter Morris, Eſq; (late chief juſtice of the province of New-Jerſey) died at Shrewsbury on friday the 27th of January laſt, in the 51ſt year of his age. Never was any event more unexpected and ſudden: He was abroad upon an evening viſit, and appeared to be in perfect health, 'till the minute in which he fell down dead upon the floor. This death, which ſtruck the company with conſternation, has ſince ſpread a general ſorrow thro' that and the neighbouring provinces, for he was univerſally known and eſteemed.

NEW-YORK. FEBRUARY 13.

Our advices from Philadelphia, ſo late as ſaturday laſt (not by the poſt, who is not arrived) is, that a conſiderable number of perſons, who call themſelves Paxton Volunteers, had aſſembled and were on the 5th inſtant marching down to Philadelphia, to attack the barracks for the Indians who were protected there;—but that they halted at German-Town (within 7 miles of that city) on being told, 1000 of the inhabitants had armed themſelves, and were entrenched round the barracks with cannon loaded with grape-ſhot, to defend it. It appears Philadelphia city was alarmed on this occaſion by two o'clock on monday morning laſt, by the ringing of the bells, &c. when the governor and council were obliged to meet.—Farther particulars we have not obtained.

Advertiſements.

A very curious ſilver STOP-WATCH, TO BE RUN for, on the 10th of March, at Mr. Nightingale's, where the conditions, &c. may be known.

PAUL DOUXSAINT.

AS I intend to go for England the beginning of April next, I hereby give notice, that I am ready to anſwer any ſuit that may be brought againſt me, and to appear and give bail to any ſummons that ſhall be iſſued againſt me, in terms of the act of the general aſſembly of this province, commonly called the attachment act.—All perſons having demands againſt me, are deſired to make them known immediately; and thoſe indebted to me, to make payment.
